

Aly Tharp is Program Director of the UU Ministry for Earth (UUMFE), working to galvanize and support liberatory Unitarian Universalist community action for climate & environmental justice.

Aly joined UUMFE in 2014 as coordinator of the UU Young Adults for Climate Justice. In 2016, she began coordinating the national UU "Commit2Respond" climate justice campaign. In 2018, Aly developed and launched the "Create Climate Justice" initiative in collaboration with the UUA and other key stakeholders.

Aly lives in Austin, Texas, and supports a local food forest on public parkland and Gulf South climate justice movements in her free time.