

Senowa is a campaigns associate at the Climate Justice Alliance. She is a racial, climate, and labor justice activist/organizer. She has worked closely with Black Lives Matter Vermont; the Vermont Workers' Center (VWC); and her former labor union, United Electrical Workers. Through the VWC she participated in 3 different It Takes Roots delegations, from the COP 21 in Paris in 2015 to the Disrupt J20 Protests in Washington, DC in 2017. She has a degree in Natural Resources Planning from the University of Vermont, and a Masters' Degree in International Sustainable Development from the University of Manchester in the UK. Senowa's favorite color is purple, she likes to dance poorly to early 2000's pop music and she currently resides in Baltimore, MD.